

B'nai Israel Reform Temple Bulletin

Rabbi Rosenthal's Message

It seems every week, the recommendations change regarding COVID-19 – and now the Delta variant. All the Synagogues and Temples across America are asking, what if plans need to be changed or adjusted at the last minute? It's really hard to know what September will bring. As of today (August 10th), we are still planning to meet in person and allow congregants to make the choice that will allow them and those around them to feel safest whether it be worshipping inside, outside or online.

I can also say that our leadership has been working tirelessly to make sure that the High Holy Days will be as safe as possible for as many people as possible. They continue to take to heart CDC guidelines and recommendations, that will allow us to celebrate our High Holy Day Season with pikuach nefesh, the value of saving a life front and center.

But the truth is that while we hope that there will not be any modifications to our plan, we are still left in a little bit of limbo. This is certainly a state which is both uncomfortable and hard to plan for.

I came across this beautiful poem written by Rabbi Rachel Barenblat, that expresses this truth, one that we need to acknowledge. She writes,

Here's the thing: the year begins anew even in the worst of times. The leaves will turn and fall and then they'll grow again.
And sometimes we're afraid, and we can't know
what choice to make to keep anyone safe.
Uncertainty's a bear. All we can do is seek out sweetness everywhere we may and work to fix what brokenness we find.
The good news is we're not in this alone.
We'll help each other hope when light seems dim and lift the sparks that darker days reveal.
We'll love each other fiercely: in the end
there is no greater work that we can do.
We who survive will help each other heal.

No matter what, our leaves will change, the new moon will emerge, and our holidays will be celebrated.

Rather than focusing on what if's, let's instead take to heart the message in this poem: that our attention should be directed towards finding goodness wherever we can, in lifting each other up, and in loving each other fiercely. These are things that we can control, and they will actively contribute to a stronger, more powerful High Holy Day season.

Let us reach out to each other, commit to be there for one another as a community in the coming year, and find the spark that exists from within.

Let's truly make the most of every in person experience we have and enjoy each other's company, soak in the moment, and make memories that are essential and heartfelt.

And let's take some time to think about what we could have done better and start sincerely apologizing. There is always room for a little more healing and reconciliation.

May our holiday celebrations bring about hope, joy, renewal and meaning to us all in the safest way possible.

Shanah tova!

President's Message

Paul Fink

Dear Temple Families,

As I sit here today in mid-August, composing this article for the September 2021 Temple Bulletin, I am acutely aware that I have no idea of what the near future is going to be.

In July, I wrote in my column for August that “provided the vaccination rate continues to increase and the infection rate continues to fall,” we anticipate being able to have a choice of services inside the Temple, under a tent in the back yard of the Temple, and on Zoom. A couple of weeks later, when I composed the letter that went out with the High Holiday Tickets, I changed my wording to “the infection rate doesn’t rise too high.” Well, with every passing day, the COVID news seems to be increasingly troubling, and I don’t know whether our three-pronged strategy will have to be tweaked or changed altogether.

If I were to use the style of our Unetaneh Tokef prayer, I might say: Who by Zoom and who by tent; who inside and who by “who knows?”

What I do know is that we are a Jewish community, and that we must come together as best we can. The High Holidays require that we take stock of our lives and resolve to improve in those areas where we believe we have fallen short. The Rabbi and Cantor, the Board of Trustees, and many volunteers are working hard to ensure that no matter what is going on when you read this bulletin, B’nai Israel will be able to have meaningful holidays.

Please check your emails for likely updates from the Temple and go our website regularly as well.

I hope that you will support our B’nai Israel community through these challenging times and that we will be able to support you as well. As always, please make the choices that are best for you and your families.

Mary and I wish you all a healthy and happy new year!

L’shalom,

Paul

Welcome new members Charles Schneider, Eric & Sarah Van Keuren, and Edward & Eleanor Smith.

Long Island Ducks Update

The Ducks and B'nai Israel are half way through the 2021 season and we have worked concession stands at five of our scheduled ten games through the end of July. Thanks to the efforts of our small cadre of dedicated volunteers those games have averaged over $1,000 each in commission income that goes straight to the Temple's General Fund.

September games are scheduled for Saturday evenings the 4th and 18th. While we have come to rely on a handful for cashiers and helpers, more help is always needed and we have lost opportunities to earn even more when we came up short of volunteers. Several newcomers this season have found the new cash registers simple to learn and operate and we try to back up each cashier with a helper that improves productivity and increases income! No experience is required and training is on-the-job.

We typically report to Ducks Stadium at 4:30 PM on game days and work through the end of the game. Volunteers must expect to remain on their feet throughout the evening so a certain amount of stamina is required. If Saturday's don't work for you, we are sometimes asked to help out on busy week nights and/or at Sunday afternoon games. If you can pitch in and lend a hand, go to ducks@bnai-israel.org for more information or to volunteer.

Thanks!

Attention Seniors

As a reminder, IRS regulations state that beginning at age 70½ a Required Minimum Distribution (RMD) be taken from a traditional Individual Retirement Account (IRA) annually. Normally, the proceeds of that withdrawal are subject to Federal income taxes as earned income. Those taxes can be avoided to the extent that some or all of that distribution is transferred directly from the IRA account to a qualified non-profit organization. This is known as a Qualified Contribution Distribution (QCD). B'nai Israel is an eligible recipient of QCD distributions.

Either as dues, a Kol Nidre donation or any other monetary contribution to B'nai Israel you were planning to make prior to the end of this calendar year, a direct RMD transfer in any amount is a simple process between your IRA Custodian and B'nai Israel. Before making that decision, it is always suggested that you consult your broker, financial advisor or IRA custodian. Contact the Temple Office or Mike Lambert, our B'nai Israel's RMD "expert", for further information to get the process started.

Whether you itemize contributions or take the standard IRS deduction, an RMD transfer to our Temple will benefit B'nai Israel and save on your Federal income taxes as well.

Thank you.
